Berlin, Rennes, 29th May 2026 – Next Sunday, May 31st, the second stage of this year's WORLD INLINE CUP starts in Rennes, the beautiful capital of Brittany. Once again, a roller sports festival is being celebrated over two days in the center of the city, now in its 44th edition. In addition to BMX and inline slalom competitions and numerous roller sports activities for young and old, there will once again be a fun run for everything that has wheels. But half marathons and marathons for masters are also on the extensive program this weekend. The sporting highlight will once again be the WORLD INLINE CUP marathon, where a very high-class elite of top teams from 14 countries will meet this year to fight for further points in the WIC overall ranking.

In the men's event, the question is whether Manuel Taibo (ESP) from the SheaStokes Inline Speed Team will be able to extend his overall WIC lead at the 2nd WIC stage in Rennes, France after his victory in Funchal. In addition to Manuel Taibo, Julio Mirena (PAR), Carlos Tarazona (VEN), Adrian Alonso (ESP), and Martin Ferrié (FRA) will start for SheaStokes. Other top international athletes include, for example, Rico Mateo (COL), Hugo Gerard (FRA), Rafael Heredia Barba (ESP), and Kevin Foumeret (FRA) from the Rollerblade SPSPSK World Team; Brecht Lippens (BEL) and Fabio Monchiero (ITA) from the Doubleff World Inline Team; and Doucelin Pedicone (FRA) from the NL-Racing Team round off the top international line-up. The SAM Racing Team from Ukraine has also made its way to Brittany once again with Oleksandr Symonenko and Nazar Kulyk.

On the women's side, the Shea Stokes World Team has entered Aura Quintana (ESP), Marine Lefevre (FRA), Marie Dupuy (FRA), Alejandra Londono (COL), and Natalia Pesantez (ECU).

The women's team from Rollerblade SPSPSK World Team is also well represented with Manon Fraboulet (FRA), Aubane Plouhinec (FRA), Axelle Colange (FRA), and Noraly Berber Vonk (NED). Lianna Van Loon (NED), Julou Maiwenn (FRA), Garcia Garoll and Keily Delgado (both COL), and Maria Jose Quiroz are expected to compete for the Powerslide Vesmaco women's team.
